Craftsmanship of the highest quality

The harmonious interior becomes an oasis: the gentle warmth caresses the senses and the sound of the resonance chamber invigorates the body with energy.

Custom-made in size and shape

As a holistic feel-good element, the Ovodarium is individually customized to the wishes and needs of its user. The resting trough is ergonomically adapted to the preferred relaxation position and the respective body shape. The use of different types of natural stone, in particular Travertine, also enables the color customization of the Ovodarium - the range of color options is (almost) as large as nature itself. There are also two- or multi-person Ovodarien.

Stable art for individualists

Ovodarium - the fulfillment of one of the oldest human dreams with the means of the most modern environmental technology. This fascinating lounge takes its name from the word combination „Ovum“ (egg) and „Tepidarium“ with its beneficial warming effects. In the Ovodarium, the simple shape of the egg is combined with the high-tech supply of heat to create an extraordinary concept for reducing environmental stimuli to the here and now in complete security.

Mobile, autonomous, adaptable

To easily integrate the Ovodarium into the individual living situation, it can be realized in different high-tech variants. The water circulation and heating system is hidden in the base, it is operated with normal mains electricity and it is completely self-sufficient and autonomous in its operation (set up - switch on - cuddle). The Ovodarium can also be connected to the central heating system.

Like New born

Wellbeing, Regeneration, holistic relaxation - what makes an Ovodarium the ideal „feel-good place“? Hot water circulates inside the bowl via a self-sufficient system in the base of the sculpture. As in a Tepidarium, it gives the stones their soothing warmth. The body is warmed up naturally - the slightly increased temperature offers gentle regeneration with a maximum feel-good factor.
